A single vehicle mishap early Friday morning on Highway 36 at the Snug Harbor turn is reported to have left the driver uninjured while causing damage of $900 to the late model vehicle.

Provincial Police at Lindsay report the vehicle operated by Donald L. Scott, age 24, of RR1, Kinmount, was westbound on Highway 36 about 6:50 a.m. when it went out of control on the curve at the Snug Harbor turn, proceeded into the north ditch and rolled over. Provincial Constable Grant Peters investigated and reports that seat belts were not in use at the time of the accident.

At Minden, Provincial Police report a Thursday evening accident from which the driver and a passenger escaped with only cuts and bruises while the vehicle suffered damage estimated at $1,500.

The incident occurred about 9:00 p.m. on Highway 503 at Gooderham as the northbound vehicle dropped off the pavement onto the east shoulder causing the driver to lose control. The vehicle then struck a rock cut and rolled over.

The driver, Vallerie L. Pagnello, age 20, of 45 Andrew Avenue, Scarborough, and a passenger, Brenda Rubie, age 20, of 146 Phyllis Avenue, Scarborough were both treated at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital for minor cuts bruises and released.

Investigation of the mishap by Provincial Constable Roy Telford reports that seat belts were in use at the time and that no charges have been laid.

Wilberforce teaching staff conduct Metric familiarization meetings

On Tuesday, May 27 and Thursday, May 29, the teaching staff of Wilberforce Elementary School conducted Metric Familiarization meetings for the public.

Mrs. M. Reber gave instruction in capacity measure demonstrating the relationship between millilitres and litres in a variety of ways. Miss Diane Claus presented measurement by weight with an emphasis on grams and kilograms. Mr. Dale McConnell dealt with the Celsius thermometer and the twenty-four hour clock. Mr. Charles Hughes covered metric material dealing with linear measure, at which time, it was pointed out that centimetres, metres and kilometres will be the most important units with which we should be familiar.

At the close of the second meeting, Mrs. J. Hunter from Gooderham expressed the appreciation of those who attended to the teachers for providing this metric programme.

It is anticipated that some other schools in the country will be making similar presentations. Anyone interested in learning more about the metric system of measurement should watch for advertisements of such meetings.

Liberal leader Nixon

Restoring of local autonomy will be Liberals main objective

A Liberal government in Ontario would put an end to bureaucratic decision-making at Queen's Park and restore local autonomy. This was one of several key platform points laid down by Liberal Leader Robert Nixon as he addressed upwards of 400 people at Lindsay Saturday evening, May 31.

Scoring tender-less contract letting on major government projects, huge deficit financing in inflationary times and wasteful expenditures, Mr. Nixon said his party was also concerned with the democratic responsibility of government. He referred to the withdrawal of power from the local levels of government and charged the present Davis administration with fostering this trend. Mr. Nixon said decisions on local matters are practically all subject to bureaucrats in Queen's Park.

"Local decisions are always second-guessed", he declared as he referred to the ruling power of the Ontario Municipal Board, Ministry of Housing and "the mass of bureaucracy."

The alternative offered by his party would be to stress local autonomy, Mr. Nixon said.

"It is too bad the government of this province has moved so far away from dealing with individuals," the leader remarked as he drew attention to the acrimonious dealings of the present government with various pressure groups. "We have been concerned that during the last 4 years the government, largely through its own fault, has been forced to deal through acrimony." Referring to the fact that seldom a day goes past that he doesn't look through his Queen's Park office window and see some placard-carrying group converging upon the government, Mr. Nixon said it was through its own policies that groups of farmers, teachers, students and labor have been forced to respond in this manner.

"I can assure you the philosophy basic to the Liberal Party is that a Liberal government would be designed to speak more for the individual and that is more important than it ever was," he declared. "In philosophical terms, the Liberal alternative will turn around the centralized policies of the present government - We have too much bureaucracy - it has been the tendency for 32 years (of Conservative government) for bureaucrats to make policies rather than administer them."

More room needed

Hydro's Minden office will be enlarged soon

Ontario Hydro's Area Office in Minden will be enlarged this summer. A 630 square foot, single storey L-shaped addition, with a full basement of equal area, will be added to the rear of the existing building. It will be completed and ready for occupancy by September.

"We've been short of space for some time now," says Doug Campbell, area manager, "and have had to make use of the basement for office space and storage of active files, an inefficient and annoying arrangement."

"The Minden Area is growing at a rate of about 500 customers a year so in view of the present needs and this growth the extension was approved," he said.

Another problem has been the lack of an assembly room for staff safety and information meetings.

"Our safety program is most important as is the ever increasing need for employees to be well informed," Mr. Campbell said. "The full basement in the addition will provide a proper assembly room for these activities."

Because the existing heating system is over twenty years old and is not designed to heat an extended building the whole structure will be converted to electric heat. Central air conditioning will also be installed.

Left turns can be harrowing for car drivers. They can be even more hazardous for bicycle drivers. The Ontario Safety League recommends walking the bike across the intersection, keeping to the right and moving with the pedestrians. At controlled intersections, cyclists should move with pedestrians and the lights.

John Rouble delivers address to attendants at Midgets' banquet

The following is an address delivered by Mr. John Rouble to the Haliburton Midgets at a banquet held in their honour at the Legion Hall in Haliburton last Friday evening.

At the outset I should like to formally congratulate you on your winning the Ontario Minor Hockey Assoc. Championship. This is a great honour and to my knowledge is only the third time that such a championship has been brought home to Haliburton.

It takes a unique combination of things to build a winning team. I think first you must have winning parents and as I look about me I see many of the parents of these young champions whom I have come to know as friends who have stuck with you fellows through thick and thin and have sustained you when you lost just as they are now honouring you because you have won.

There may be some thing you fellows don't know about your parents that I think you may find interesting.

Joe Iles at La Sarre Quebec when these boys were Bantams Joe never saw the final winning goal he couldn't stand the tension of the shoot-off and had his face to the wall for the final goal. Or Curry Bishop the assistant to the assistant to the assistant coach of one Greg Bishop, Curry always managed to get a few words in concerning Greg's checking or skating during the game while Aldeth told Curry to leave the boy alone. Or Nellie and Eric Thompson who would win the mileage trophy of the year for carting hockey teams all over the country. Or Jean Baina quiet pleasant and friendly person intensely loyal to her boys. Jean may have been quiet but the boys always knew the Bain's were in the rink as the relatives were great vocal supporters of Tim and the club. Or Elgin and Yvonne MacDuff who started coming to the games early in the season and by the time we got to Oro they had half of Gooderham supporting the boys. Or Eddie LaPorte who kept every referee aware of the offsidess and I can recall some whistles of mine he questioned. Or Howard Roberts and Lloyd Curry who with their attendance at hockey games have bought the south-west corner of the rink and Gladys behind the glass as concerned as any mother everytime Joe takes a dive. Finally, Butch and Barb Berry are going to get their names inscribed over the South-west window of the rink a place they have occupied during most of Derwins career.

Seriously though fellows, I think it's time we gave a big hand to your parents who have really helped you get here tonight.

I was looking at a picture of you kids when you were pee wees and I had cause to reflect on a number of things and one that came to mind was the matter of ability, attitude and discipline which are three very important aspects of any athlete. I thought as I looked at the picture and compared it to the present championship team that there were fellows on the pee wee team that had more potential ability than many of you on the present club. However because of attitude or control problems these boys are not sitting here tonight. On the other hand I see some fellows here tonight that were "carried" on that team but through hard work persistence and effort these boys became an important part of an Ontario championship team.

I think tonight of the Coaches and Managers you have experienced and for various reasons you learned from them all, and I learned from these men also.

From Grant Rae we learned you don't win at any cost and by his example he showed us how to lose graciously in Powasson.

Being exposed to these men I hope that you have learned the value of two things. First that it is the Team that wins the Championship and within this team the individual must discipline himself to pass instead of shot, to backcheck instead of float and to forecheck even when his legs are falling off. The Team in our society is the vehicle through which most things are brought to a successful conclusion. Even the dinner you are eating tonight represents a magnificent team effort from the farm to the table. The team brings out in individuals some of the finest Christian virtues honesty, loyalty and love to name but a few.

Honesty is built into the individual by the team when he knows he must give his best and skate his hardest for his mates. If he doesn't he loses both the respect of his buddies and the management but most of all his own self value is in question.

Loyalty is clearly understood within the context of honesty and boys learn that self and team criticism is fair but woe betide the outsider that speaks ill of a member or the team.

Love I talk about in the context of team companionship and the meeting of friends that become friends for life. These life long friendships are developed because the phony, fake and slacker is quickly discovered under the pressure of championship and tournament play and under the same set of circumstances integrity, courage, honesty, and persistence come to the fore.

Therefore within the framework of the team the best qualities of the individual man may be fostered, nurtured and brought out. As an educator this is one of the reasons I have the interest I have in team sports because I believe passionately that the greatest efforts of individuals are often called forward in order to not let down the team and that this testing if honestly given a man reaches down into the depths of his strength, ability and potential and finds new horizons for himself.

In this vein I should like to recall something that Grant Rae once told me when I was complaining bitterly about a call made by a referee. He said don't criticize the ref it only gives the boys reason to lose!

I have met some people in my life who always blame the other fellow for their lack of success or their system for their failure. Don't grow up this way, minor hockey should teach you that at times all is not fair - Game # 6 at Caledon was a perfect example of this. However in life you will find that all is not fair and that you will often have to overcome stupidity, indolence and prejudice in order to achieve your ends. The degree of success you will have will relate greatly to your ability to accept the responsibility yourself admit to the barriers and overcome them without whining, whining.

A good thing to remember is "When you win say little when you lose say less."

In conclusion I would like to read you a poem about persistence, courage and winning. This poem is Vitae Lampadae by Sir Henry Newbalt.

Council of Dysart et al were among many guests at the Midgets banquet

Team work brings out in individuals some of the finest Christian virtues honesty, loyalty and love to name but a few said Mr. John Rouble in addressing the Haliburton Midgets, All Ontario Midget "D" Champions at a banquet held in their honour by the Municipality of Dysart et al at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton last Friday evening.

Mr Rouble who is the principal of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School at Haliburton and president of the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association was the guest speaker and gave a stirring and thought provoking message to the boys and their parents. His complete address may be found on another page of this weeks issue.

The reeve of the Municipality of Dysart et al Murray Fearrey following the introduction of the players and their girl friends then introduced the coach, Gary McKnight, manager, Larry Medley, trainer, Al Oakley, Equipment manager Ken Lewis and all around worker for the club Bob Stinson.

The following were the Reeve's remarks.
Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is my pleasure and privilege to welcome you as guests of the Municipality of Dysart et al.

We are pleased to be able to have such a banquet in order to recognize a team that has reached the highest level of achievement possible in their league and group division and afforded us the honour of the 1974-75 Midget "D" Ontario Championship.

We would like to recognize the team, the management, the minor hockey executive and organization and everyone who drove cars and in any way gave of their time and assistance. We owe each and everyone of them a vote of thanks.

We are pleased to be able to have all the team here this evening. We are pleased also that your friends and parents could be here to share this honour with us.

I must say to the real heroes here tonight: "The Hockey Players", that you have provided us with some fine hockey entertainment during the regular season and then in the play-offs against Bobcaygeon, then Marmora, Oro, and finally Caledon with a "Do or Die" seventh game victory to win it all. That winning and excitement and glory will be remembered by all of us for years to come. But, what is more important is what you as individuals accomplished working as a team toward a common worthwhile goal. You have had an invaluable experience early in life. I trust those memories and principals will remain with you the rest of your lives.

It is our hope you will all enjoy the dinner and the presentations. Once again! Welcome!

Deputy Reeve Lloyd Coneybeare in his remarks stated that it was an honour for council to have the opportunity to honour the team tonight and told the players that the area received a great boost by their efforts during the past winter. In closing he said that he was glad to see the mothers and fathers of the players present.

Gary McKnight, councillor for Ward 2 and also the coach for this championship team told all present that he was proud to be part of this team and was more than thrilled at the success the team in bringing the championship to Haliburton.

Harold Bannon, councillor for ward 1 stated how proud he was of the team who had brought this championship to Haliburton it being only the third time that a hockey championship had come to Haliburton. He told the team that we are all proud of them.

Lawrence Morrison, councillor for ward 3 congratulated the players on their winning effort and told them that if they are considering hockey as a career that he wished them the best of luck.

During the evening Dale LaPorte was presented with a trophy for being the outstanding goal tender in the Amos Midget hockey tournament.

Larry Medley, manager of the team then presented Tim Bain with a large sized picture of himself taken of Tim while in action in one of the hockey games. Tim has been drafted by the London Knights of the Major Junior A league and will be attending their training camp this fall. Following the presentation Larry stated that this team was made up of good boys who had their parents right behind them. He went on to say that he was really impressed by the great support shown to the team by the local loyal fans. He concluded by saying that he was pleased to have worked during the past winter with the players and management of the club. He thanked the council for their efforts on putting on the banquet for the team.

Al Oakley, who was the trainer of the club gave a very humorous talk pointing out that as trainer he was handing out his own awards. Injury of the year award went to Joe Iles, lace breaker of the year award went to Mark MacDuff, Actor of the year award to Joe Roberts, tape award to Joe Iles, fastest skater of the year award went to Derwin Barry, and the aspirin leader of the year award went to Jimmy Thompson. The players and management were sorry to learn that Al who is a teacher at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School will be leaving Haliburton following this school term. He will be missed as he was a big booster for hockey in the community.

Tim Bain on behalf of the hockey club presented each member of the management of the club with large size photos of the team and management taken on the ice after the team had won the championship.

The council were presented with the championship trophy and a plaque with the trophy to be put in the trophy case in the arena and the plaque to be hung in the lobby.

Hyland Crest Residents are raising funds for bus

The residents of Hyland Crest are sponsoring a Strawberry Shortcake Tea on Monday, June 16th from 2 - 4 p.m. as a means of raising funds for their bus.

As this tea will be taking place during Senior Citizens' Week we are reminded that the 1975 slogan, "It's the Time of Our Lives", is a reality at Hyland Crest. The majority of the residents take part in many activities and when they get their bus you will find them turning up to many community functions throughout the County, thus proving It's the Time of Our Lives.

Of course they will be sharing their bus with the Crippled Children, the Sheltered Workshop, the Nursing Home and other Senior Citizens throughout the County.

This special bus with a hydraulic lift will cost about $26,000. The Ontario Government will pay half, therefore these elderly people need to raise $13,000. You must admit this is quite a large undertaking for those who now live in a Senior Citizens Home, but you only have to come in and talk to them a few minutes until they let you know they are determined to get it.

Usually during Senior Citizens' Week some of them go on a picnic by chartered bus but not this year as they would rather have the money to go to their own bus so that all could go, not just those who get around without a wheelchair.

Within the next week letters will be going out to church and service clubs throughout the County in an effort to seek much needed support. The residents of Hyland Crest feel that with the purchase of a paraplegic bus they could make their slogan, "It's the Time of Our Lives", come true for the many, both old and young handicapped in Haliburton.

The residents wish to thank all those that have helped them to reach the $1000 mark. Mr. Mike O'Neil, Muriel Welch, Barbara Ann Delorme, Sidney Brown, Gordon Allcorn, Lillian Curry, Harold Archer, Evelyn Robertson, Mrs. Steed, Lillian Harvey, Edith Winch, Phyllis McGrath, Peggy Henderson, joint Choirs of Minden United and St. George's Anglican, Lillian Tomlinson, Hyland Crest Auxiliary, U.C.W. of Carnarvon and the following residents of Hyland Crest, Marjorie Kanally, Elma Welch, Ada Lewis, Ada Allcorn, Alfred Cox and Carrie Jones, and including the Grandmothers Tea.

Watch those door-to-door contractors

We would like to take the opportunity through our editorial column this week to caution Haliburton County residents concerning approaches by door to door contractors.

There have been recent occurrences in the Haliburton County area where such persons have done cut-rate jobs which are found not satisfactory on completion, while the contractor cannot be re-located.

It is advised that no one should sign anything or part with any money until such door to door contractors offering cheap prices for roof work or aluminum siding installation are checked out with the Chamber of Commerce or the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police to determine the reputability.

The warning is out that such contractors tend to prey particularly on the elderly citizens of the area in which they are working and we urge them to use extreme caution in dealing with them.

If you want a job done, deal with the people you know in the area and if something goes wrong you can soon get in touch with them at their place of business.

Send copy early

Preparing a weekly newspaper for publication each week is not an easy job. It takes a great deal of time and effort and deadlines must be met if the paper is to come out on time. We must adhere to our deadline because if we don't chances are our paper will be late.

Putting the news, the ads and photos together is just a small part of the operation. The news has to be typed up, the ads made up and so on and this takes time.

What we are trying to say is that we must have a deadline and as you are well aware this deadline is each Monday at 5:00 p.m.

It would appear that all of our copy is reaching us on Mondays and this makes it a hectic day for us here at the Echo.

We would certainly appreciate it if you would give us your news, photos and ads prior to this date if at all possible. It would certainly lighten the burden that we are faced with every Monday.

Think it over and try to get in touch with us any day of the week when you have your material ready.

Rules of conduct on school buses

School buses transport thousands of Canadian children every week-day. Although the frequency of injuries based on miles driven is low the potential is high. The Canada Safety Council urges parents to supplement the instruction that children receive at school by stressing the following rules of conduct on and around school buses.

1. Get to the bus stop ahead of time: Leave home early so that you won't rush into an accident.
2. Don't wait on the street or paved road: Give the bus room to pull over. You'll be safer from traffic.
3. Use the handrail when getting on or off the bus: This will prevent you falling if you should slip or trip.
4. Take your seat quickly: If you are not sitting down when the bus starts you may be thrown down and injured.
5. Keep the aisle clear: Don't block it with books, musical instruments, lunch pails, feet, legs, etc.
6. Get permission to open the windows: Always ask the driver if its all right. Never put your head, arms or hands out the window.

7. Don't throw things: Never throw things in a bus, at a bus or out of a bus. Save scraps for a wastebasket.

8. Keep it quiet: The driver has to hear warning signals. Be absolutely quiet at railway crossings so the driver can hear if a train is coming.

9. No horseplay: Horsing around could distract the driver and cause an accident.

10. Leave the bus properly: Walk in single file. Keep away from the side of the bus as it pulls away. If you cross the road before it pulls away stay at least 10 feet in front of the bus so that the driver can see you.

11. Obey the driver: Your school bus is like a classroom on wheels. Respect the driver as you respect your teachers.

Children should not be allowed to stand in school buses. The practice is condemned by the Canada Safety Council and other authorities because of the obvious danger of a sudden stop, acceleration, turn or collision. The fact is that many children are required to stand as a result of inadequate space. Parents should do everything they can to discourage it.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Laurent Picard
President, CBC
OTTAWA, Canada

Dear Sir:

CBC has done it again!

Last night I caught snatches of the much-ballyhooed "status of children in Canada" series on CBC TV. What I saw confirmed the worst apprehensions aroused by the advance publicity, - that the new wave of "barbarians" has completed its takeover of our tax-supported CBC system and that their assault upon the last bastion of our Judaeo-Christian civilization, - the home, - has begun.

It is apparent from the propaganda promoting this series which was mailed to the public and high school principals of the nation for them to announce to our children, - all at our expense, - that control of the CBC has been captured by left-wing radicals bent on pushing to its logical conclusion that social revolution which has been going on quietly but with devastating consequences for many years in our public school systems: that is, "the liberation of our children from the so-called oppressive tyranny of their parents".

Clearly the intent of this series is a subtle and sophisticated frontal attack on the Judaeo-Christian foundations of the home and of our society. Such an arrogantly one-sided presentation by CBC of a needful national debate is intolerable. Surely it is the responsibility of the CBC as a crown corporation serving a pluralistic society to provide equal opportunity for the presentation of the contrasting view-points held by another significant segment of our society who are committed to the tried and true traditional values on which this nation was established and under which influences until recent years have flourished.

In behalf of the more than 1200 members of "Renaissance Canada", now in 9 of the 10 provinces of Canada, representing the millions of Canadians who believe that the philosophy of education in our schools "should reflect the maturity of adulthood and the moral guidance of parenthood", I challenge you to give us equal resources to prepare and air-time to present a TV series refuting the superficial and fallacious premises on which the "status" series has been developed, and to propose instead, a set of dynamically relevant and humanely sensitive optional solutions to these pertinent and pressing social problems.

Sincerely,
Ken Campbell
Chairman, Renaissance Canada

P.S. Having been the guest for the taping of the "Under Attack" show at Queen's University in Kingston, preceding the taping of the show on which you appeared early this year, let me congratulate you on your performance. That's some hot-seat but you were cool under fire.

Let's pound the metrics

BILL SMILEY

IKNEW it! Iknew it! They started screwing around with that Celsius thermometer, and the weather has gone crazy. Who ever heard of a heat-wave in May?

We had one this year, at least in these parts, and the entire population was reeling around, sunburned and sun-stroked, when they should have been wearing sweaters and turning the heat up in the evenings.

As I lay on the bed the other night, nothing over me, both windows open, gasping for breath, I up and told my wife, I told her: "It's that danged Celsius, that's what it is. They've thrown the whole country out of kilter. I must have lost a litre of sweat and a gram of weight."

She told me to stifle myself, as far as she was concerned. She has been a little owly lately, owing to the fact that she can't zip up her new slacks owing to the fact that she has been hitting her own desserts too hard, and chiefly owing to the fact that I told her she had gained about 25 millimeters around the bum, which sounds a lot worse than a couple of inches.

And so it goes. You never get much appreciation around home, whether you are battling the town council, or taking on the whole government of Canada.

But I can tell you that there are a great many people in this country who think the current move to Celsius and metric is as stupid and arrogant as I do. I've had a steady stream of letters supporting my anti stand, since a recent column lambasting the change as needless and heedless of the people's desires. Many of the correspondents are also writing their MPs, and getting back the usual oily, evasive and feeble letters we expect from our MPs.

These letters are not from cranks. They are from intelligent Canadians who are getting sick of being pushed around by the mandarins in Ottawa.

Ann Judd, who writes a column for the Port Elgin Times, says: "No matter what the federal government tells you, believe me, it's a rip-off." She goes on, as many other readers do, to point out the tremendous cost of the unasked-for changes. And this in a time of racking inflation, when every citizen is, and the government should be, trying to make every dollar go as far as it will stretch.

A chap with the charming name of Volodimir Barabash makes the same charge in a poem called It's Madness printed in the Dauphin Herald.

Wes Rodgers of Mar, Ont., and Fred Salisbury of Peterboro agree with me completely, and see nothing beneficial in the change. Angela Aldworth of Waterloo says: "If it's not too late to stop the big wheels from rolling regarding change to metric and celsius, my vote is NO." It's never too late, Angela and all you others. We have only begun to fight.

You see, what we are dealing with here is chickens. Politicians are chickens and civil servants are chickens. Who ever ran away from a fight with chickens?

Doug MacLennan of Fergus wrote a stringent letter to the editor of the Fergus-Elora Express, opposing the change, and sent a copy to his MP. The Express editor pointed out some of the follies of the change and said: "Lately, a few people have suddenly said 'Is it worth it?'"

Believe me, chaps, it is not worth it, and if you don't oppose the changes for any other reason, fight them on the basis of cost. Ontario alone has just allotted $1.5 million to schools for converting measuring articles. Multiply this by 10 and you have just scratched the surface.

Connie Hodgins of High River, Alta., is hopping mad about the arrogance with which the measures have been introduced. She claims somebody must have brainwashed the MPs to "prepare them to act like a flock of sheep and vote without waiting to hear what their constituents' wishes were."

A pungent comment from a reader in Renfrew: "Yes, we have Celsius and the politicians tell us it is for export. Where can we export our weather except to the U.S.A. and they don't want it. The government is preaching economy. Each road sign to be replaced by a kilometre sign will cost $30. How do you like those bananas? Sick-sick-sick."

A lady from Waterloo suggests that the introduction of Celsius is "just about the last straw" in minorities forcing things on the majority, such as that pitiful Canadian flag and bilingualism. She adds: "I'd like to know just who they (the gov't) did ask. Nobody ever asked me or anyone I have come in contact with. The silent majority just got taken again."

Even my old high school math teacher, Earl Felming, said he was waiting to see me blast it in my column. Now if a math teacher doesn't like metric, or sees no need for it in Canada, surely there isn't any.

I've run out of space, but not out of mad. Come on, you silent majority. Let's make some noise. I'm sick to death of being buried in that stuff that is emitted by all those chickens in Ottawa. And I know I'm not alone. Keep the letters flying and the shouts of outrage echoing.

You there, lady, you with the beautiful 38-22-38 figure. Maybe you're apathetic and you say we can't fight City Hall. But you'll change your tune when they call you out in centimeters. You'll fight when someone says you are a 95-55-95. You're gross!

Last week's storm caused severe damage

The electrical storm that hit Haliburton last Thursday evening not only left us with a lot of rain but the lightning did a great deal of damage.

At approximately 9 p.m. lightning hit the tool shed beside the cottage owned by Mr. Martin Reesor on the road going into Clees On the Rocks just off highway 121 about four miles from Haliburton. The tool shed caught on fire and the Haliburton Fire Department were called to extinguish the blaze.

The severe storm also hit the Haliburton CATV cable putting it out of commission for a few hours until such time as necessary repairs could be made.

Several Haliburton citizens reported that their televisions sets were hit by the lightning and put out of working order.

Victoria Street School fun night a success

When it comes to holding a successful event you have to take your hat off to Mrs. Gorrie, principal, Mrs. Black, secretary, the teachers and students of the Victoria Street School who year after year provide the citizens of Haliburton and surrounding area with an outstanding event known as Fun Night.

Every year at this time that Fun Night is held its a great success and last Friday evening was no exception as hundreds crowded their way into the school to take part in an evening that had something for young and old.

Every room in the school had something going on and just some of the nights entertainment included a fish pond, a haunted house, bingo, tea room and many other outstanding events.

Right from the opening which was at 7:00 p.m. people came by the hundreds to force a traffic jam both inside the school, and outside. All in all its some event and if you have never attended may we suggest that you don't miss it in 1976.

The thing that amazes us is that year after year it still has that drawing appeal and instead of the crowds getting smaller they seem to get bigger each year.

The girls and boys and staff would like to thank all parents who donated baked goods and white elephant items. Many thanks also to all parents who worked for us both in the afternoon and evening. As always our local merchants supported our efforts most generously and we would like to acknowledge the contributions made by the following: Emmerson Lumber, Varty's Jewellery, Bank of Montreal, Curry Motors, Bernsteins, Candlewood Gifts, Dominion Hardware, Stedman's, Pollards, Ricard Real Estate, Vasey Real Estate, Bank of Commerce, Brohm & Leighton, Bowes & Cocks, Mike's Milk, Haliburton Echo, Elstone's Garage, Boice Motors, Haliburton I.G.A., Red & White, Poole's Variety, Brohm's Variety, Steinberg's Fruit Market, Pauntt's Flower Shop, Haliburton Lumber, Wallins Dairy, Kosy Korner Restaurant, Les Hughes, Shoe Store.

Rotarians' wives attend International Convention

Many of the Rotarians and their wives from both the Minden and Haliburton Rotary Clubs have been in Montreal this past week attending the Rotary International Convention which was held at the Montreal Forum.

One of the Travelways buses was chartered to take both the Minden and Haliburton Clubs to the convention and it pulled out of Haliburton early last Saturday morning. One of the highlights of the trip was a trip to Jarry Park to see the Montreal Expos in action.

The Rotarians arrived back in the Highlands on Wednesday and all report an excellent time both at the convention and sight-seeing in Montreal.

Obituary

Deborah Henderson

Deborah Kerr Henderson passed away at the Red Cross Hospital, Haliburton on May 7, 1975.

Born in Ecclefechan, County of Dumfries, Scotland on September 6, 1887, she was the daughter of the late Margaret and Thomas Henderson.

She came to Canada in 1912 and was married to Sam Pasquino in Lindsay on January 30, 1913 and resided in Donald, Ontario. She is survived by three sons, Ralph of Donald, John of Peterborough, Thomas of Lindsay, four daughters, Margaret (Mrs Thomas Woods) of Haliburton, Rose (Mrs Merle Pringle) of Donald, Evelyne (Mrs Grattan Woodcock) of Kinmount and Jean (Mrs Roy Bates) of Donald.

Eighteen grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren also survive.

She was predeceased by her husband, three brothers and a son Donald.

The late Mrs Pasquino rested at the funeral Chapel of John Welch and Son, Minden until May 9, when Rev. Don Nicholson of the United Church, Haliburton, conducted the service, with interment at Ingoldsby Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Cecil Robinson, Donald Shaw, Cecil Harrison, Wilson McElwain, Allan Francis and Max Emmerson.

International Women's Year

Co-operative driving course planned for women in County

At a meeting May 3rd at Haliburton Secondary School of women interested in organizing projects of International Women's Year, some ideas were brought up that might benefit women in the area.

One of the main concerns of this meeting was the isolation felt by women who are without transportation and who live in the country. It was suggested that a co-operative driving course could be set up so that women who drive could help others who want to learn. Anyone interested in this project should contact Gail Adams, 754-2280. Women who would like to take correspondence courses but who need assistance could be helped by a resource bank of volunteers who might help an hour or so a week. Anyone interested in this could contact Elaine Nunn, 754-2821.

A women's crisis centre was suggested, a place where information could be made available to women and girls on their legal rights, on family planning and birth control.

This could be a place women could phone in an emergency, if someone were ill and needed a doctor right away or needed someone to look after children in a family crisis or if counseling were needed. This could be run by volunteers if funds for office and phone could be obtained. Money is available this year from the government for community projects that "will improve the status of women in Ontario". The group applying for such a project must be established in the community and be a non-profit organization. The deadline for applications (available from the Ministry of Labour) is June 30th. Perhaps a church group in the area could sponsor a project like this.

Women's International Year is an opportunity for groups and individuals to get funds for badly needed community projects.

We talked at this meeting about how worthwhile it is to stand up for your rights and not to sit back and feel helpless. Many people feel totally victimized by the injustices of such things as the social security system or feel that there is nothing they can do to change the kind of world we live in. Women can have a tremendous influence on the way things are because it is usually women who have the most important job of caring for children and teaching them in their most impressionable years. It is important that we inform ourselves politically so we can make elected representatives work for us. We have to write the TV stations and tell them what we want to see and what we want our children to watch. It is we that decided what our children learn in school, either by our silence or by our communication with the school board and with the teachers. Women must speak out wherever there is any racial prejudice or discrimination and to teach their children tolerance to differences.

It was generally agreed that a real focus of International Women's Year should be on women who were unliberated in every sense of the word in less affluent countries and areas. Women present expressed their support for women on the reserves and in the Kenora area who are trying to stop the mercury pollution there. We were informed that one meal of mercury-tainted fish is enough to kill the unborn fetus of a pregnant woman. A petition was sent by those present to the government urging that the mercury pollution be stopped. A committee was set up to see what further support could be given to native women in the Kenora-Dryden area. Support was also expressed for native women in our own and other areas who are trying to establish their own treaty rights.

The keynote of the meeting was that women can control what goes on around them. Until women won the vote at the turn of the century the criminal code forbid "idiots, lunatics, criminals and women" from voting. At that time women like Nellie McClung fought hard to change that. Now it's time women fought again to make that vote mean something. If it concerns the Federal government, write Bill Scott, Government of Canada, Ottawa. (If the House is in Session, you don't even have to buy a stamp, just write O.H.M.S. in the corner). If it is provincial government write Glen Hodgson, Government of Ontario, Toronto. If you're not sure, call up your local paper and ask them - or call the Social Planning Council, your reeve or your township office.

There was a good turn out at the dance on Friday night. The "Diamondbacks" are a good group, and the teens really enjoy them.

Richard Fielding of Huntville was home for the weekend, with Mrs Joy Fielding.

Everyone, who had the opportunity to take in Fun Night at Victoria Street School, had a good time. The Haunted House was really good.

Mr David Pequegnat and family were weekend visitors with Mr and Mrs Ted Duncan.

Mrs Petra Pequegnat has purchased the Millie Henderson home, and spent the weekend with Mrs Cora Sawyer, while getting her new home in order.

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs Marion Johnston's home was hit by lightning in a freak storm. Thanks to the fast action of Dan and George Johnston, Ray Barry Alf Sisson and some very kind summer visitors, the fire was out before the Fire Department got there. TOWNSHIP OF MONMOUTH FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 1974

AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of Council, Inhabitants and Ratepayers of the Corporation of the Township of Monmouth.

We have examined the 1974 financial statements of the Corporation of the Township of Monmouth. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Corporation of the Township of Monmouth as at December 31, 1974 and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario municipalities applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

This Laughing Pilgrimage

by Nila Reynolds

Visits from the trustees were ordeals which had to be faced by every pioneer teacher since these officials always lived in her school section and in most cases were parents of attending pupils. It wasn't long before a trustee from my board put in an appearance and wanted to know if I had any problems and how I was getting along. I countered by asking if he had heard any complaints. "Well," he said, "I did hear you let the kids slobber over the water pail."

In the rural schools of yesterday all drinking water had to be carried from the nearest source and stored in pails which a hygienic conscious teacher kept as clean as possible under the circumstances. I assured him righteously that he had been misinformed and that no one behaved like that when I was in the room. "Well," he remarked as he left, "if you have any trouble just 'reply' to the trustees and they will help you out."

At the end of the term, before school closed, we had a picnic on the lakeshore, everyone welcome and everyone accepting who could run, walk or crawl. The boys hauled lumber to the beach for a dancing platform and put up some swings in the tall trees nearby. There were several boats on the scenic little lake from which the non participants could rest on their oars and watch the proceed-

The ladies surpassed their usual culinary excellence by loading two long tables with food you wouldn't see at a modern picnic - chicken, beef and egg sandwiches, pickles, salads, cakes of every variety, mountains of cookies, pies of raisin, blueberry, raspberry and freshly picked strawberry to tempt the most jaded gourmet. How they danced, swung and played games! It was a real community effort, successful because everyone took part and when it was over everyone voted that it had been the best school picnic ever.

A school teacher, if she were young and reasonably attractive, seldom lacked for beaux in a community where she might be the only new face appearing that year. One village dance I attended with a local escort and his sister made interesting gossip. They picked me up in a little two wheeled cart or sulkey drawn by a driver. The dance was fun but on the way home we were caught out in a terrific thunderstorm with torrential rain. The girl had an umbrella but it was impossible to hold it in the gale force winds interspersed with lightning whose dazzling spears blinded the already nervous horse. We had just passed their gate when one of the wheels collapsed tumbling the three of us to the ground. No one was hurt and we were all thankful it happened so close to their home. When the story was noised about the rest of the young folk loved the joke on me.

It was a wonderful year and I was sorry to leave all those kind people specially those at my boarding place. I had bargained to pay $5.50 a month but Mrs. Smith would only accept $5.00 since she said I had been a great help to her; she was always the soul of kindness to me and a model cook and housekeeper.

In 1897 dad ran a mill which made cedars shingles and the services of three young men who could do special jobs connected with shingle production were bargained for. They came in on the evening train and one of them, after inspecting his boarding house and spending the night there, left for home at 5:30 a.m. the same way. The two who stayed were brothers whose appearance after they cleaned up after work was presentable even handsome. They told me afterwards that when I passed them on the way from Sunday School the elder stated firmly "There goes the girl I'm going to marry."

I had noticed them in the store but had not been properly introduced. Not long after my admirer got up his courage and asked me to go out with him. I accepted and never regretted it. His company during those languid summer evenings contributed to my pleasure in one of the most memorable summer's of my life. When he left for home, he asked me to wait for him. We decided that marriage was not practical at present since he was twenty and I but seventeen. The five year

Senior citizens are among our most important resources.

This is what Ontario is doing to recognize them.

"It's the time of our lives"

Senior citizens prove over and over again that their lives can be both creative and productive.

Senior Citizens Week focuses attention on their contributions and needs - promoting and publicizing services provided by the Ontario Government to senior citizens, and encouraging development of recreational and social services in communities across Ontario.

For instance, lots of seniors are volunteering to help other senior citizens - driving them to appointments, helping them to fill out income tax returns, teaching them, sharing experiences with them.

Did you know that there are many senior citizens' physical fitness programs that you can join (including Senior Citizens' Olympics organized in some Ontario communities)?

Did you know that seniors themselves have developed many clubs and centres for their own special interests, including just about everything from gardening to world travel?

With 1000 senior citizens' clubs here in Ontario, as well as 90 senior citizens' centres, there's bound to be one in your community. What's more, there are many special interest clubs that aren't limited as to age - camera clubs, social clubs, study groups, a whole range of subjects that people who are retired now have time for.

Through special grants and other assistance, older people are finding the opportunity to go back to school and university - to develop new talents and concentrate on new interests.

For specific information about programs and services available to senior citizens, the Ministry of Community and Social Services has just published RESOURCES FOR SENIOR CITIZENS. For a copy, contact your local Ministry of Community and Social Services office or write:

wait we had agreed upon seemed to stretch into forever and he left a very lonesome girl behind him when he went north to the big lumber mills where men worked from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. However, with his skills he made more money than most and used it to attend school during the winter months and in this way acquired an education which was unusual at that time.

The next year I taught the school at Tory Hill and, in spite of the theory that one's home school is to a teacher what Waterloo was to Napoleon, got along just fine although I had gone to school myself with some of the pupils in my classroom. The following year I moved to a log school in the next township where a new building was under construction; I finished the term under its roof.

We had a lively Christmas concert and from its proceeds bought a desk and a Canadian flag for the school which had 35 pupils ranging from Grade One (Primer) to Grade Eight (Senior Fourth) and some of the older boys were a foot taller than I, standing 5 feet high with my shoes on and weighing in at 93 pounds. The teacher who previously had the position was forced to leave because she couldn't keep order. With this in mind the very first morning I told them I was certain we could get along just fine since I was going to be the boss. I kept my word and they never gave me any trouble.

When I returned to my boarding place after that first day the man of the house, who was also a trustee, told me that he had expected to be thrown out the window. Instead it was a pleasant year in which I made a lot of friends. When I left the children gave me a very pretty "parlour lamp" and many smaller tokens.

During that year my fiancée paid me a visit. When he told the people there he was looking for a cedar swamp they didn't quite believe him. In spite of this communication gap my pupils were delighted by my guest and giggled with each other about "teacher's fella."

That year I taught two of the children to play the organ and they performed in the little Anglican Church much to the joy of their father who was very fond of music.

At that time it was the custom that the teacher must visit at every home with school aged children and spend a night with them. I faithfully carried out this part of my duties until I encountered a supper which was unusual according to my experience. The lady of the house began by putting the tea in an immense pot which was placed in the middle of the stove to boil passionately all the time she was preparing the meal. Her bread was sour and heavy as a spinster's heart when the last eligible bachelor leaves town. There was a can of sardines opened and sitting on the table but no meat or vegetables and no forks. I managed with a spoon, did a lot of talking while pretending to eat.

The house had neither blinds nor curtains although it was said that the wife had very illustrious relatives in Europe. The whole thing made me wonder what sort of training she had been given at home. I left as soon as I decently could and went on to the next neighbour's who had a nice meal prepared and as I sat down remarked "I just knew you would be hungry."

This lady was an immaculate housekeeper with spotless wood floors. Her husband was an accomplished violinist and could play from dark until a late bedtime and never repeat a tune; I played the violin but not in a class with him. This couple were anxious for me to "keep company" with their favourite nephew and assured me that a certain pretty quilt I admired was going to be wedding gift for the girl he married. I liked that quilt but the lad wasn't "my cup of tea." He had been courting the teachers for quite a spell without results so the next year he gave up on educated older women and married one of my pupils - a girl of sixteen.

Gems of Truth

EARLY COMMUNISM

"And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul; neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common. Acts 4:32.

The opening chapters of the Book of Acts leave a vivid picture of what the mind and heart of the early Church was filled with. The "Risen Lord" had now sent the promised "Comforter" to indwell and fill with Divine love all those who were His followers. These were people who recognized the fact that their sin had separated them from Jehovah God and therefore had turned to the crucified Jesus for restoration and salvation. All such the Holy Spirit cleansed and forgave and filled the empty vessels of human clay with Himself. The result was a foretaste of days to come when "love" will reign supreme.

The communism practiced by these early Christians stands in sharp contrast to Godless communism of the present day and age. The children of God who were led to share with one another were not merely professing followers of Jesus but were truly born again. It was the love that followed that born-again experience that bound the group together in the bonds of affection for each other and they were all on common ground. They were all children of God by a common experience of salvation wrought by God Himself.

The result was complete and unanimous opinions in all matters that were essential for each other's well-being. Scripture says that they were of one heart and of one soul, thus there was no occasion for quarrelling, bickering or difference in decision making. They were completely bound together by a fervent love such as the world had never seen before. This was the first time in history that a group was gathered together whose members loved each other more than self, thus showing a desire to "give" rather than "take".

Here also one can note that the process of sharing was the exact opposite of modern political and economic Communism. This present system wants to "take away" from him who has "more", whereas the Christian community wanted to "give" to him who had "less". In Godless communism one does not find anyone who is searching for a comrade who only has "one dollar" so that he may share his "five" with him. No, rather he is looking for a man who has "fifteen dollars" so that he can take away from him and thus double his own private capital.

Communism to day is erected on a platform of force, hatred, fear and bloodshed. The leaders are always suspicious of each other and are continually in dread of assassination or betrayal. On the contrary the Christian community was bound together by love, none of them desiring dominion over his fellowman and all lived in quiet contentment, possessed of the peace of God which is the unfailing asset of salvation. Since no one had anything as their own anymore and no one had more than another, envy and covetousness became unknown in their ranks. What a contrast to the greed, lust, hatred and unrest of modern Communism. Here we get a perfect illustration of a world who wants to carry on without God, and a world where the true God of Heaven and earth is Sovereign and Supreme.

Surely modern Churchianity has removed itself far from these basic principles of love and unity. No longer can it be said of us that we are of one heart and mind. The love of the world has corrupted our faith. Instead of the pilgrim character on our way to a better land, we have settled down as permanent residents of this world. The early Christians had a sense of the reality of Heaven which is largely lost today. To them it was the place of soul-stirring attraction; to many today it is the last place they want to go. There are some who even despise the "Place" and keep their eyes fixed on a "better world". Sadly enough they may miss both, as Scripture plainly teaches. Matthew 7:21-23. The way of life of the early Christians was gloriously fragrant with the love of the redeemed children of God. Conquering love spelled sacrifice on behalf of others. A sin-weary world caught a whiff of Heaven when they came near the saints and it certainly reflected what Jehovah God is like. Praise His Name!

Congregations celebrate 50 years of union

The congregations of the United Churches of Haliburton, Ingoldsby and Lochlin are celebrating 50 years of Union and in the case of Haliburton 100 years of service as a congregation.

Some of the former United Church ministers will be returning to Haliburton during the upcoming months and will be appearing at the local United Churches. The list includes, Rev. M.R. Brown, Rev. Ron McCaw, Rev. Tom Rutherford, Rev. Gordon C. Smythe and Rev. William Armitage.

To commemorate the occasion the Centennial Committee of the pastoral charge have a special Centennial booklet out covering some of the interesting highlights in the history of the three churches and are now available at The Candlewood Gift shops both in Haliburton and Minden and at Bob Brohm's Variety and at Poole's Variety in Haliburton.

We have just received one of these booklets and find it very interesting in the story of the church both in stories and pictures. Its a great bargain at the low price of $1.00.

I hereby proclaim the week beginning June 15th to be observed as

Report from Parliament

By William C Scott, MP

A new government bill, to amend the Old Age Security Act, has been tabled in Parliament, and it goes a long way towards implementing some of the proposals made by the Conservative party in the 1974 federal general election campaign.

The new bill is almost certain to receive speedy passage when it comes to a vote on third reading, hopefully after a few amendments have been made in committee to remove some inequities.

One of the provisions of the bill will provide for the payment of the old age pension, at age 60, to a person whose spouse is 65 years of age or older. Under the present regulations, both the husband and wife must now wait until age 65 to receive the pension.

The bill also provides for agreements between the federal government and provinces that have provincial pension and supplement programs, and this is important because the new bill will also allow for the payment of the old age supplement at the lower age level.

Another new feature of the bill will provide for the payment of the old age pension to a person, at age sixty, who has lived with a spouse for at least three years, where there is a legal or other bar to the ability of the couple to get married. In the event that a couple is married, though, they will only have had to live together for at least one year.

A person who applies for the pension at age sixty, whose spouse is receiving the pension at the eligibility age of 65, will have to undergo a means test. In other words, the pension will not be paid at the lower age level if the couple has sufficient income to maintain an adequate living standard.

There is also provision in the new bill for the Minister of National Health and Welfare to forgive an overpayment if it can be shown that recovering the overpayment would work a hardship on the pensioner. The Minister can also forgive the overpayment if the cost of recovery is too high in relation to the amount that would be paid back to the treasury.

There are two aspects of the new bill that I hope will be changed, and if they are,

it will make for a greatly improved old age security program. In the first place, there is no provision for payment of the pension to a spinster, for instance, at the lower age level. This is discriminatory, in that it does not recognize that there are many very good reasons why some people do not marry.

Another section of the bill provides for the pension of the person who is drawing a pension at age 60 to 65 to be cut off in the event of the death of the eligible spouse. This is not right. Once the pension has been approved, it should not be cut off because of the death of the other member of the couple.

This is especially true where there is no other source of income. A better method in this case is to apply the means test, rather than to have a hard and fast rule to discontinue payment of the pension. As I said throughout my election campaign in 1974, I can foresee the day when everyone will be given the option of retiring at age 60, and to draw the old age pension. People should also have the option of working until at least the present retirement age of 65 years.

In my view, the new bill is one part of the answer to the problem or erosion of buying power of pensioners due to inflation. It will allow for additional income for a couple where one spouse is forced to retire before age 65 due to health or other reasons. The new law will become effective on October 1st of this year.

In Memoriam

HOLLAND - In loving memory of a dear sister, Nellie, who passed away June 13, 1972

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, all in vain;

To have, to love, and then part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never

The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Lovingly remembered by Sadie and Fred.

DEAN - In loving memory of a dear father, Fred, who passed away June 14, 1960
What we would give if we could say
Hello, Dad, in the same old way;

To hear your voice, see your smile,
To sit with you and chat awhile.

So you who have a father,
Cherish him with care,
For you'll never know the heartache

Till you see his vacant chair.
Sadly missed by Sadie and Fred.
